Dear Certified Life Care Planners and Canadian Certified Life Care Planners:

A goal of many Certified Life Care Planners and Canadian Certified Life Care Planners has been for the ICHCC to attain accreditation for the CLCP/CCLCP credentials. After much research and investigation, the ICHCC will be applying for the American National Standards Institute (ANSI) accreditation. ANSI is the oldest accreditation organization in the United States and is highly recognized and respected world-wide. It is the perfect international accreditation organization that we need due to our Canadian Life Care Planners, as well as our projected growth opportunities.

Larger companies with far greater numbers have achieved this goal. The ICHCC is committed to making this a reality but we need your support and assistance. We will be contracting with a consulting firm to assist us in applying for the accreditation as this undertaking is far too large a task for the ICHCC Administration to accomplish on its own.

We need your support to accomplish this goal. We are asking that each CLCP/CCLCP submit $50 that will be applied towards your next renewal payment. The $50 you send in now will be applied and credited to your next renewal fee.

To those individuals who have achieved high levels of success in the field of life care planning, we ask that you consider a larger contribution, above the $50 requested, still knowing that a maximum of $50 will be applied and credited to your next renewal fee.

With each CLCP/CCLCP becoming involved and contributing, we can realistically pursue the goal of accreditation.

Thank you for your continued support and assistance in helping to strengthen the Certified Life Care Planner and Canadian Certified Life Care Planner credentials!

Best regards,

V. Robert May III, Rh.D., CRP, CDEII, President/ICHCC
